Solution Focused Therapeutic Approaches

School: School of Law and Society

2025 | Semester 2

UniSC Sunshine Coast

BLENDED LEARNING

Most of your course is on campus but you may be able to do some components of this course online.

Please go to usc.edu.au for up to date information on the teaching sessions and campuses where this course is usually offered.

1. What is this course about?

1.1. Description

This course introduces you to a new set of skills and techniques for interviewing clients based on solution building, in contrast to problem solving. You will learn to assess the nature and seriousness of client problems and then design interventions that enable clients to achieve their desired outcomes or preferred future. Intensive practice of these skills will prepare you for the Internship in your second year where you will work with clients and enable them to construct their own solution, based on their own resources and successes.

GOAL:	To demonstrate capacity to critically reflect on capacity and performance in relation to the application of Solution Focused Brief Therapy
PRODUCT:	Essay
FORMAT:	2000 Words. Complete a written reflective critique of your session. Describe the strategies and skills you felt that you used effectively, explaining the effect of those skills on the client-counsellor relationship; 2. Make use of the following reflection questions: How do you think the session was for your client? - How did you notice this - what cues did you pick up on? How did you build an alliance with the client and how do you know if that happened? What positive responses did you notice in your client? What did you do or say that contributed to those responses? What parts of the session could be improved? What changes would you need to make to your counselling skills for this to happen? Which parts of your counselling do you think were most effective, and why? 3. Were there strategies and skills used that you would like to strengthen? Note how these skills impacted on the client-counsellor relationship, and, provide specific details as to how these would need to be modified; how this might then create a better therapeutic outcome; 4. Consider alternative action choices that may have been appropriate. Would the relationship have benefited from any other strategies or skills not demonstrated - name these and describe why they would have been beneficial; 5. Did considerations of diversity or other therapeutic issues impact your interactions within the session (e.g., culture, gender, age, power, or ethics).

9. How are risks managed in this course?

Health and safety risks for this course have been assessed as low. It is your responsibility to review course material, search online, discuss with lecturers and peers and understand the health and safety risks associated with your specific course of study and to familiarise yourself with the University's general health and safety principles by reviewing the online induction training for students, and following the instructions of the University staff.

10. What administrative information is relevant to this course?

10.1. Assessment: Academic Integrity

Academic integrity is the ethical standard of university participation. It ensures that students graduate as a result of proving they are competent in their discipline. This is integral in maintaining the value of academic qualifications. Each industry has expectations and standards of the skills and knowledge within that discipline and these are reflected in assessment.

Academic integrity means that you do not engage in any activity that is considered to be academic fraud; including plagiarism, collusion or outsourcing any part of any assessment item to any other person. You are expected to be honest and ethical by completing all work yourself and indicating in your work which ideas and information were developed by you and which were taken from others. You cannot provide your assessment work to others. You are also expected to provide evidence of wide and critical reading, usually by using appropriate academic references.

In order to minimise incidents of academic fraud, this course may require that some of its assessment tasks, when submitted to Canvas, are electronically checked through Turnitin. This software allows for text comparisons to be made between your submitted assessment item and all other work to which Turnitin has access.

10.2. Assessment: Additional Requirements

Eligibility for Supplementary Assessment

Your eligibility for supplementary assessment in a course is dependent of the following conditions applying:

- (a) The final mark is in the percentage range 47% to 49.4%; and
- (b) The course is graded using the Standard Grading scale

10.3. Assessment: Submission penalties

Late submissions may be penalised up to and including the following maximum percentage of the assessment task's identified value, with weekdays and weekends included in the calculation of days late:

- (a) One day: deduct 5%;
- (b) Two days: deduct 10%;
- (c) Three days: deduct 20%;
- (d) Four days: deduct 40%;
- (e) Five days: deduct 60%;
- (f) Six days: deduct 80%;
- (g) Seven days: A result of zero is awarded for the assessment task.

The following penalties will apply for a late submission for an online examination:

Less than 15 minutes: No penalty
From 15 minutes to 30 minutes: 20% penalty
More than 30 minutes: 100% penalty
