1.3. Course Topics

Throughout the semester DRA 102: Exploring Twentieth Century Theatre students will:

- Explore key dramatic works during the twentieth century's realism and antirealism theatrical movements. Note: As a reflection of human experiences experienced throughout the twentieth century, the dramatic works read, discussed and viewed throughout this course may include elements of adult themes, course language, sex/sexual references, and/or violence.
- Investigate historical linkages across society, culture, and artistic practice.
- Build interpretative artistic skills through in-class activations of dramatic literature.
- Communicate connections to modern society through a practical realization of the Living Newspaper aesthetic. Note: In the demonstration of this twentieth century dramatic form through an assessment task, student groups may create and perform a staged reading of their dramatic works reflecting on contemporary news stories with subject matter(s) containing adult theme and/or course language.
- Develop a better understanding of postmodernist theatre practice.

All	3	Essay	Individual	40%	1200-1500 words	Exam Period	Online Assignment Submission with plagiarism check

All - Assessment Task 1: Performance Review

GOAL:	Creative practitioners can review and critique performance work through an analysis of themes, production values, and creative choices.
PRODUCT:	Written Piece
FORMAT:	You will watch a recorded professional live theatre performance on Digital Theatre Plus and compose a performance critique. Your performance critique will analyse the production's communication of significant themes for an audience through key production choices. Further information will be provided during workshops and on Canvas.
CRITERIA:	No.		Learning Outcome assessed
	1	Clear and accurate communication of the dramatic literature's plot and characters.	1
	2	Comprehension of the production's choices transforming the dramatic work for a live audience through specific examples.	2
	3	Written communication skills	1

All - Assessment Task 2: Group Performance - The Living Newspaper

GOAL:	As a developing theatre practitioner, in this task you will enhance your performance skills by realising a historic performance style.
PRODUCT:	Creative Performance
FORMAT:	You will perform a well-rehearsed six to eight minute scripted performance based on the Living Newspaper techniques brought forward by the Federal Theatre Project during the Great Depression in 1930's America. Though this assessment task, your group will explore how this movement responded to other early twentieth century theatre styles across the globe. Each group will select a prominent Australian news story during 2023 and then transform your research into the six to eight minute performance. In Week 8, your group will perform an early draft of this assignment for instructor feedback. Further information about this task will be provided on Canvas.

CRITERIA:	No.	Learning Outcome assessed
	1 Realisation of performance style	4
	2 Ensemble skills	3
	3 Overall polish of presentation	4
	4 Dramatic meaning in historical context	2

All - Assessment Task 3: Connecting Author to Play-Text

GOAL:	Theatre practitioners analyse a play-text in relation to the playwright's approach towards dramatic style and aesthetics.
PRODUCT:	Essay
FORMAT:	For this assignment, you must choose one of the pre-selected play and playwright combinations provided by the course coordinators. The resulting essay will analyse the playwright's construction of their dramatic work as a reflection of dramatic style and aesthetics. The essay will build from the course's set readings, script analysis of the play-text and course workshops. The essay's research will focus on the playwright's artistic approaches, their theories towards dramatic form, the historical moment at time of production and the socio-political influences. Further information will be provided in the learning materials and on Canvas.
CRITERIA:	No.		Learning Outcome assessed
	1	Understanding of the playwright's historical, social and political context	2
	2	Analysis of the play's characters, plot and themes in relation to the dramatic work's historical, social and political context	2
	3	Written communication skills and referencing	1
	4	Comprehension of the playwright's theatrical aesthetics	1

9. How are risks managed in this course?

Risk assessments have been performed for all studio and laboratory classes and a low level of health and safety risk exists. Some risk concerns may include equipment, instruments, and tools; as well as manual handling items within the laboratory. It is your responsibility to review course material, search online, discuss with lecturers and peers and understand the risks associated with your specific course of study and to familiarise yourself with the University's general health and safety principles by reviewing the online induction training for students, and following the instructions of the University staff.

10. What administrative information is relevant to this course?

10.1. Assessment: Academic Integrity

Academic integrity is the ethical standard of university participation. It ensures that students graduate as a result of proving they are competent in their discipline. This is integral in maintaining the value of academic qualifications. Each industry has expectations and standards of the skills and knowledge within that discipline and these are reflected in assessment.

Academic integrity means that you do not engage in any activity that is considered to be academic fraud; including plagiarism, collusion or outsourcing any part of any assessment item to any other person. You are expected to be honest and ethical by completing all work yourself and indicating in your work which ideas and information were developed by you and which were taken from others. You cannot provide your assessment work to others. You are also expected to provide evidence of wide and critical reading, usually by using appropriate academic references.

In order to minimise incidents of academic fraud, this course may require that some of its assessment tasks, when submitted to Canvas, are electronically checked through Turnitin. This software allows for text comparisons to be made between your submitted assessment item and all other work to which Turnitin has access.

10.2. Assessment: Additional Requirements

Your eligibility for supplementary assessment in a course is dependent of the following conditions applying:

The final mark is in the percentage range 47% to 49.4%

The course is graded using the Standard Grading scale

You have not failed an assessment task in the course due to academic misconduct

10.3. Assessment: Submission penalties

Late submission of assessment tasks may be penalised at the following maximum rate:

- 5% (of the assessment task's identified value) per day for the first two days from the date identified as the due date for the assessment task.

- 10% (of the assessment task's identified value) for the third day - 20% (of the assessment task's identified value) for the fourth day and subsequent days up to and including seven days from the date identified as the due date for the assessment task.

- A result of zero is awarded for an assessment task submitted after seven days from the date identified as the due date for the assessment task. Weekdays and weekends are included in the calculation of days late. To request an extension you must contact your course coordinator to negotiate an outcome.
