All - Assessment Task 1: Discipline-specific pedagogical appraisal and demonstration

GOAL:	The goal of this task is for you to present a critical analysis and demonstration of a student-centred pedagogical approach in the context of your Arts discipline through an in-class presentation and interactive learning activity.
PRODUCT:	Oral and Written Piece
FORMAT:	In a like-discipline pair, you are to identify a student-centred approach to learning that would elicit effective learning experiences for Year 7/8 students in your Arts discipline. You will present a 15-minute audio-visual presentation and interactive workshop that presents a critical analysis of this pedagogical approach in this context, and demonstrates the approach in practice through a short, interactive learning activity. Your audio-visual presentation will firstly present your critical analysis of your chosen pedagogical approach (approximately 5-minutes) using the framework provided on Canvas. You and your teaching partner will then lead your peers in an interactive workshop activity (approximately 10-minutes) suitable for Year 7/8 students in your discipline area that shows this pedagogical approach in action, and supports monitoring of student progress through informal assessment. You are to plan your interactive activity using the lesson template provided, and identify the relevant content descriptors from the Australian Curriculum: The Arts that these activities will address. The 'students' (your peers) must be actively engaged in making and/or responding during the workshop, and you should ensure that there are opportunities for students of a diverse range of backgrounds and skill levels to participate. Your submission of the audio-visual presentation, interactive activity and template, critical reflection script and reference list is to be submitted to Canvas by the due date as a word document or PDF.

GOAL:	The goal of this task is for you to demonstrate your capacity to design a sequence of lessons in your Arts discipline for Year 9-10 students.
PRODUCT:	Plan
FORMAT:	This task involves designing and planning an engaging sequence of three 70-minute lessons for a Year 9/10 Arts class, plus a rationale for the approach you have taken. Using the appropriate Arts curriculum, lessons should be planned as so they: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • embed Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander perspectives, using appropriate protocols for your discipline; • meet the needs of a diverse range of learners and provide opportunities for all students to succeed, including the use of differentiation and UDL approaches; • include a diagnostic assessment activity to identify student learning so the introductory lesson can be pitched to the appropriate level before continuing the lesson sequence; • include meaningful links to literacy and numeracy within the lesson plans; • include opportunities for formative assessment, identifying clear, ambitious and achievable learning goals; and • incorporate effective and safe use of ICT relevant to the Arts learning activities you have devised. These lesson plans are to be consecutive, with content, activities and tasks becoming increasingly challenging throughout the sequence, and incorporating explicit teaching, spacing and retrieval practice, modelling/worked examples and scaffolding, allowing ample opportunities to practise recall and retention, and ensuring a balance between making and responding. Ensure that independent problem-solving activities are presented only once the students approach proficiency through opportunities to practise progressively challenging tasks. You will also provide a rationale justifying your choices of pedagogy, curriculum content, assessment and resources, and should include references to the course readings, curriculum documents and education policy frameworks. The teaching strategies utilised in your learning and assessment lesson sequence must include explicit teaching, scaffolding, modelling and worked examples, and should be selected based on the students' familiarity with the content. Submit the lesson plans and rationale with reference list to the submission point.

PRODUCT:	Written Piece
FORMAT:	You are to complete a critical reflection on your development as a teacher of the Arts throughout the course. Using one of the four reflective frameworks provided in Canvas, you are to critically reflect upon and discuss the following aspects of your learning: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • how you have been able to embed Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander histories, cultures or perspectives into your Task 2 lessons with examples of practice; • examples and discussion of strategies you have incorporated into your lesson plans to develop literacy and numeracy skills within your discipline; • a discussion of teaching strategies and learning theories pertinent to Arts learning; • a consideration of how certain education policies and practices might impact on your future practice, and • philosophies of Arts education that resonate with your future practice as an Arts educator. It is essential that each section includes plans for your professional learning, including goals, actions, and areas in which you might seek feedback (from teachers and supervisors). Include a reference list with your reflection.

10.1. Assessment: Academic Integrity

Academic integrity is the ethical standard of university participation. It ensures that students graduate as a result of proving they are competent in their discipline. This is integral in maintaining the value of academic qualifications. Each industry has expectations and standards of the skills and knowledge within that discipline and these are reflected in assessment.

Academic integrity means that you do not engage in any activity that is considered to be academic fraud; including plagiarism, collusion or outsourcing any part of any assessment item to any other person. You are expected to be honest and ethical by completing all work yourself and indicating in your work which ideas and information were developed by you and which were taken from others. You cannot provide your assessment work to others. You are also expected to provide evidence of wide and critical reading, usually by using appropriate academic references.

In order to minimise incidents of academic fraud, this course may require that some of its assessment tasks, when submitted to Canvas, are electronically checked through Turnitin. This software allows for text comparisons to be made between your submitted assessment item and all other work to which Turnitin has access.
