All - Assessment Task 1: Quizzes

GOAL:	This assessment is designed to give you an opportunity to explore and test your understanding of the texts, analytical approaches and academic writing conventions. Feedback on your assessment will form the foundation of preparation for the major essay and for class preparation
PRODUCT:	Quiz/zes
FORMAT:	Submit: Weeks 4-12. Academic assessment Individual and group task Word count varies At points during the semester you will prepare a paragraph (or equivalent) of close textual analysis with a debatable, analytical topic sentence and approx 300 words of researched analysis (from the text, further sources are optional). See CANVAS and class information for more specifics and due dates. At other points you will be required to answer multiple choice questions designed to enhance your reading preparation for tutorials and depth of analysis. The multiple-choice questions should be submitted before the tutorial to which they pertain where possible. The analytical paragraphs may be submitted within 48 hours of completing the tutorial to which they pertain.
CRITERIA:	No.		Learning Outcome assessed
	1	Explain and describe concepts of 'nation' and 'Australia' as imagined, real and contested.	2

GENERIC SKILLS:	Communication, Problem solving, Organisation

All - Assessment Task 2: Oral presentation and engagement

GOAL:	This assessment is designed to give you an opportunity to explore, test and 'perform' your understanding of the texts, analytical approaches and collaborative learning and oral presentation skills. Feedback on your assignment will inform the major essay. It is also designed to give you an opportunity to explore and test your understanding of the texts, in interactive discussions between you, your classmates and your tutor.
PRODUCT:	Oral and Written Piece
FORMAT:	Submit: Weeks 5-12 Industry assessment Group task Duration 5 minutes per person in group. The assessment has two parts: performed presentation and class engagement a) This is a 'performative' visual and oral presentation working in groups of two or three. Groups will be formed in the first week of tutorials in negotiation with class members and tutors. This presentation must be engaging and be informed by substantive literary research into both text and relevant criticism. All group members must fully participate in both preparation for, and presentation of the assessment task. The form of the presentation must speak to an engaging, potential future industry environment and can be a video recording or live presentation depending on your class and preference. You may also like to create a 'play' where you perform the ideas. All group members receive the same grade based on evidence of a strong synthesised final product. If there is evidence that participation is not equal there may be slight varying of grade among the group, at the discretion of the tutor. This is not usual practice. See CANVAS for specific questions and text topic options. b) Your responses to others' groups, engagement with learning activities and preparation for learning is assessed. A formative reading journal will assist. For information on a reading journal format see CANVAS.

9. How are risks managed in this course?

Health and safety risks for this course have been assessed as low. It is your responsibility to review course material, search online, discuss with lecturers and peers and understand the health and safety risks associated with your specific course of study and to familiarise yourself with the University's general health and safety principles by reviewing the online induction training for students, and following the instructions of the University staff.

10. What administrative information is relevant to this course?

10.1. Assessment: Academic Integrity

Academic integrity is the ethical standard of university participation. It ensures that students graduate as a result of proving they are competent in their discipline. This is integral in maintaining the value of academic qualifications. Each industry has expectations and standards of the skills and knowledge within that discipline and these are reflected in assessment.

Academic integrity means that you do not engage in any activity that is considered to be academic fraud; including plagiarism, collusion or outsourcing any part of any assessment item to any other person. You are expected to be honest and ethical by completing all work yourself and indicating in your work which ideas and information were developed by you and which were taken from others. You cannot provide your assessment work to others. You are also expected to provide evidence of wide and critical reading, usually by using appropriate academic references.

In order to minimise incidents of academic fraud, this course may require that some of its assessment tasks, when submitted to Canvas, are electronically checked through Turnitin. This software allows for text comparisons to be made between your submitted assessment item and all other work to which Turnitin has access.

10.2. Assessment: Additional Requirements

Your eligibility for supplementary assessment in a course is dependent of the following conditions applying:

The final mark is in the percentage range 47% to 49.4%

The course is graded using the Standard Grading scale

You have not failed an assessment task in the course due to academic misconduct.

10.3. Assessment: Submission penalties

Late submission of assessment tasks may be penalised at the following maximum rate:

- 5% (of the assessment task's identified value) per day for the first two days from the date identified as the due date for the assessment task.

- 10% (of the assessment task's identified value) for the third day - 20% (of the assessment task's identified value) for the fourth day and subsequent days up to and including seven days from the date identified as the due date for the assessment task.

- A result of zero is awarded for an assessment task submitted after seven days from the date identified as the due date for the assessment task. Weekdays and weekends are included in the calculation of days late. To request an extension you must contact your course coordinator to negotiate an outcome.
