All - Assessment Task 3: Evidence of Creative Artefacts

GOAL:	The goal of this assessment task is to demonstrate your understanding of the role of social media in fashion production through your application of your digital strategy within the fashion or beauty industry. You are asked to create and then curate digital content for a fictional fashion or beauty product, or an event such as launch or charity fundraiser.
PRODUCT:	Artefact - Creative
FORMAT:	Fashion marketing and consumption is undergoing an enormous change due to the influence of the digital age. Consumers now expect immediate or "on-demand" access to new products and ideas. Online platforms deliver this with high efficiency. You will create a suite of artefacts (digital content) to raise awareness of, or promote revenue for, a fictional fashion or beauty product you developed. The portfolio of digital content will be used as marketing collateral within the digital marketing campaign/project to promote (draw attention to, make aware) or produce revenue (sell), a fictional fashion or beauty product. It will comprise of a blend of social media posts (Facebook, Instagram, Tumbler, Snapchat etc), and online materials such as a blog or website as identified in assessment 1 (Digital Strategy Plan). Specific requirements will be available in course Canvas site.Please note, this assessment is mocked-up. The artefacts need not "go live" unless you wish them to, but all aspects should be prepared to "go-live" in terms of digital quality and presentation standards.

It is your responsibility to review course material, search online, discuss with lecturers and peers and understand the health and safety risks associated with your specific course of study and to familiarise yourself with the University's general health and safety principles by reviewing the online induction training for students, and following the instructions of the University staff.

10. What administrative information is relevant to this course?

10.1. Assessment: Academic Integrity

Academic integrity is the ethical standard of university participation. It ensures that students graduate as a result of proving they are competent in their discipline. This is integral in maintaining the value of academic qualifications. Each industry has expectations and standards of the skills and knowledge within that discipline and these are reflected in assessment.

Academic integrity means that you do not engage in any activity that is considered to be academic fraud; including plagiarism, collusion or outsourcing any part of any assessment item to any other person. You are expected to be honest and ethical by completing all work yourself and indicating in your work which ideas and information were developed by you and which were taken from others. You cannot provide your assessment work to others. You are also expected to provide evidence of wide and critical reading, usually by using appropriate academic references.

In order to minimise incidents of academic fraud, this course may require that some of its assessment tasks, when submitted to Canvas, are electronically checked through Turnitin. This software allows for text comparisons to be made between your submitted assessment item and all other work to which Turnitin has access.

10.2. Assessment: Additional Requirements

Your eligibility for supplementary assessment in a course is dependent of the following conditions applying:

The final mark is in the percentage range 47% to 49.4%

The course is graded using the Standard Grading scale

You have not failed an assessment task in the course due to academic misconduct.

10.3. Assessment: Submission penalties

Late submission of assessment tasks may be penalised at the following maximum rate:

- 5% (of the assessment task's identified value) per day for the first two days from the date identified as the due date for the assessment task.

- 10% (of the assessment task's identified value) for the third day - 20% (of the assessment task's identified value) for the fourth day and subsequent days up to and including seven days from the date identified as the due date for the assessment task.

- A result of zero is awarded for an assessment task submitted after seven days from the date identified as the due date for the assessment task. Weekdays and weekends are included in the calculation of days late. To request an extension you must contact your course coordinator to negotiate an outcome.
