	3	Application of relevant health promotion principles to inform the design of the health promotion strategy portfolio.	1
	4	Application of appropriate theories/models to design health promotion strategy activities.	2
	5	Extent of collaboration to produce and present a strategy portfolio.	1
GENERIC SKILLS:	Collaboration, Applying technologies

All - Assessment Task 3: Formative and process evaluation plan

GOAL:	To demonstrate your knowledge and skills in using the evidence-based literature to design and communicate formative and process evaluation planning to evaluate health promotion portfolio strategies.
PRODUCT:	Plan
FORMAT:	Individually you will develop a written health promotion formative and process evaluation plan for a health promotion resource and one (1) of the strategies included in the strategy portfolio you developed in Task 2, Strategy portfolio presentation. You will also draw on your Task 1 Evidence summary for this task. The formative evaluation plan component will include a plan for gathering feedback from stakeholders on the appropriateness of a health promotion resource for a community/population. The process evaluation plan component will include a justification for the process evaluation to assess project strategies and activities. For each element of process evaluation [exposure, participation, delivery, program satisfaction, context] you will identify an indicator of change and how you will measure any changes. This will include process performance indicators and relevant data collection methods and tools, types, sources, and timeframes. Once you have developed your process evaluation you will develop five (5) questions to be included in a survey tool to collect process evaluation data. Use Vancouver-style referencing. The formative and process evaluation plan template and further details on how to approach and complete the evaluation plan will be available on Canvas.
CRITERIA:	No.	Learning Outcome assessed
	1	Application of health promotion evaluation models.	1 3
	2	Use of evidence to develop an evaluation plan.	3
	3	Technical accuracy of formative and process evaluation components.	3
	4	Quality of the justification for the formative and process evaluation.	3
	5	Alignment of process evaluation questions with the evaluation plan indicators.	3
	6	Technical accuracy of process evaluation tool and questions.	3
GENERIC SKILLS:	Communication, Problem solving

7. Directed study hours

A 12-unit course will have total of 150 learning hours which will include directed study hours (including online if required), self-directed learning and completion of assessable tasks. Student workload is calculated at 12.5 learning hours per one unit.

8. What resources do I need to undertake this course?

Please note: Course information, including specific information of recommended readings, learning activities, resources, weekly readings, etc. are available on the course Canvas site– Please log in as soon as possible.

8.1. Prescribed text(s) or course reader

There are no required/recommended resources for this course.

8.2. Specific requirements

Not applicable

9. How are risks managed in this course?

Health and safety risks for this course have been assessed as low. It is your responsibility to review course material, search online, discuss with lecturers and peers and understand the health and safety risks associated with your specific course of study and to familiarise yourself with the University's general health and safety principles by reviewing the online induction training for students, and following the instructions of the University staff.

10. What administrative information is relevant to this course?

10.1. Assessment: Academic Integrity

Academic integrity is the ethical standard of university participation. It ensures that students graduate as a result of proving they are competent in their discipline. This is integral in maintaining the value of academic qualifications. Each industry has expectations and standards of the skills and knowledge within that discipline and these are reflected in assessment.

Academic integrity means that you do not engage in any activity that is considered to be academic fraud; including plagiarism, collusion or outsourcing any part of any assessment item to any other person. You are expected to be honest and ethical by completing all work yourself and indicating in your work which ideas and information were developed by you and which were taken from others. You cannot provide your assessment work to others. You are also expected to provide evidence of wide and critical reading, usually by using appropriate academic references.

In order to minimise incidents of academic fraud, this course may require that some of its assessment tasks, when submitted to Canvas, are electronically checked through Turnitin. This software allows for text comparisons to be made between your submitted assessment item and all other work to which Turnitin has access.

10.2. Assessment: Additional Requirements

Eligibility for Supplementary Assessment

Your eligibility for supplementary assessment in a course is dependent of the following conditions applying:

- (a) The final mark is in the percentage range 47% to 49.4%; and
- (b) The course is graded using the Standard Grading scale

10.3. Assessment: Submission penalties

Late submissions may be penalised up to and including the following maximum percentage of the assessment task's identified value, with weekdays and weekends included in the calculation of days late:

- (a) One day: deduct 5%;
- (b) Two days: deduct 10%;
- (c) Three days: deduct 20%;
- (d) Four days: deduct 40%;
- (e) Five days: deduct 60%;
- (f) Six days: deduct 80%;
- (g) Seven days: A result of zero is awarded for the assessment task.

The following penalties will apply for a late submission for an online examination:

Less than 15 minutes: No penalty
From 15 minutes to 30 minutes: 20% penalty
More than 30 minutes: 100% penalty

10.4. SafeUniSC

UniSC is committed to a culture of respect and providing a safe and supportive environment for all members of our community.
