1. What is this course about?

1.1. Description

This course builds on the foundation of SCI110 and will introduce you to more sophisticated statistical analyses. Theoretical knowledge introduced in the learning materials will be enhanced by detailed illustration in tutorials and hands-on application in computer workshops. In each case, the theory will be applied to real-world problems. On completion of this course, you will be confident in critically assessing the range of statistical tests that might be employed in a given situation, in identifying which test best suits the scenario, and in conducting this test using cutting-edge computer software.

8.2. Specific requirements

You need access to a calculator with statistical functionality. Examples include, but are not limited to: CasioFX100AU Scientific Calculator; Casio FX82 AU PLUS-BP Scientific Calculator; Sharp EL531WHBLK Scientific Calculator. You need access to IBM SPSS Statistics (commonly called simply SPSS). SPSS is available in most USC computer laboratories. You do not need to purchase SPSS. However, you may find completing the assessment tasks easier if you have access to SPSS on your own personal computer. Unfortunately, student editions of SPSS are no longer available, and the USC licensing arrangements do not allow SPSS to be loaded onto student computers. You may wish to explore purchasing an SPSS license from (for example) www.onthehub.com. (At the time of writing, a six-month licence for IBM SPSS Statistics Base Grad Pack version 21 is about $60.)

9. How are risks managed in this course?

Health and safety risks for this course have been assessed as low. It is your responsibility to review course material, search online, discuss with lecturers and peers and understand the health and safety risks associated with your specific course of study and to familiarise yourself with the University's general health and safety principles by reviewing the online induction training for students, and following the instructions of the University staff.

10. What administrative information is relevant to this course?

10.1. Assessment: Academic Integrity

Academic integrity is the ethical standard of university participation. It ensures that students graduate as a result of proving they are competent in their discipline. This is integral in maintaining the value of academic qualifications. Each industry has expectations and standards of the skills and knowledge within that discipline and these are reflected in assessment.

Academic integrity means that you do not engage in any activity that is considered to be academic fraud; including plagiarism, collusion or outsourcing any part of any assessment item to any other person. You are expected to be honest and ethical by completing all work yourself and indicating in your work which ideas and information were developed by you and which were taken from others. You cannot provide your assessment work to others. You are also expected to provide evidence of wide and critical reading, usually by using appropriate academic references.

In order to minimise incidents of academic fraud, this course may require that some of its assessment tasks, when submitted to Canvas, are electronically checked through Turnitin. This software allows for text comparisons to be made between your submitted assessment item and all other work to which Turnitin has access.

10.2. Assessment: Additional Requirements

Your eligibility for supplementary assessment in a course is dependent of the following conditions applying:

The final mark is in the percentage range 47% to 49.4%

The course is graded using the Standard Grading scale

You have not failed an assessment task in the course due to academic misconduct

10.3. Assessment: Submission penalties

Late submission of assessment tasks may be penalised at the following maximum rate (the rates are cumulative):

- 5% (of the assessment task's identified value) per day for the first two days from the date identified as the due date for the assessment task.

- 10% (of the assessment task's identified value) for the third day

- 20% (of the assessment task's identified value) for the fourth day and subsequent days up to and including seven days from the date identified as the due date for the assessment task.

- A result of zero is awarded for an assessment task submitted after seven days from the date identified as the due date for the assessment task.

Weekdays and weekends are included in the calculation of days late.

To request an extension you must contact your course coordinator to negotiate an outcome.
