GOAL:	Develop a range of prototypes that explore and test a variety of game design principles and mechanics.
PRODUCT:	Artefact - Creative
FORMAT:	Students are required to design and develop a series of prototypes in short development cycles and in response to keywords and themes. Prototypes will be submitted for critique in weeks 4, 7, 11 and 13 during the scheduled critique sessions. Feedback for each prototype will be provided during critique sessions, with a final grade awarded for the submission of all four prototypes in week 13.
CRITERIA:	No.		Learning Outcome assessed
	1	Demonstrates an understanding of the key concepts covered in the unit lectures, tutorials and workshops.	1 3
	2	The prototypes provide an appropriate and creative response to the keywords and themes of the design brief.	1 3

All - Assessment Task 2: Critique Sessions with artefact

GOAL:	Critique your own work and present an analysis of the prototyping experience. Explain the chosen design process and production methodologies when presenting results.
PRODUCT:	Artefact - Creative, and Oral
FORMAT:	Participate and effectively contribute to critique sessions. Critique sessions occur in weeks 4, 7, 11 and 13. Students are required to actively participate in the critique of their own and others work demonstrating an understanding of game design concepts and theories discussed in learning materials. Each session will be worth 7.5% (total of 30%) of the total course marks.

PRODUCT:	Journal
FORMAT:	Design journal reflecting on a series of prototypes, presentation, and game designs. During the development of each prototype and after each critique you will submit a changelog/blog, that summarizes your design goals and reflects on existing game design influences and the feedback provided during the critique sessions. Journals are submitted in weeks 5, 8, 12 and Exam Period.

10. What administrative information is relevant to this course?

10.1. Assessment: Academic Integrity

Academic integrity is the ethical standard of university participation. It ensures that students graduate as a result of proving they are competent in their discipline. This is integral in maintaining the value of academic qualifications. Each industry has expectations and standards of the skills and knowledge within that discipline and these are reflected in assessment.

Academic integrity means that you do not engage in any activity that is considered to be academic fraud; including plagiarism, collusion or outsourcing any part of any assessment item to any other person. You are expected to be honest and ethical by completing all work yourself and indicating in your work which ideas and information were developed by you and which were taken from others. You cannot provide your assessment work to others. You are also expected to provide evidence of wide and critical reading, usually by using appropriate academic references.

In order to minimise incidents of academic fraud, this course may require that some of its assessment tasks, when submitted to Canvas, are electronically checked through Turnitin. This software allows for text comparisons to be made between your submitted assessment item and all other work to which Turnitin has access.

10.2. Assessment: Additional Requirements

Eligibility for Supplementary Assessment

Your eligibility for supplementary assessment in a course is dependent of the following conditions applying:
