All - Assessment Task 2: Reflective Journal

GOAL:	To critically reflect on selected course required readings demonstrating a deep understanding of key concepts presented in the readings relating to authors' voice, sharing own positionality, values, ethical principles to highlight own learnings from the readings and their application for social work practice.
PRODUCT:	Journal
FORMAT:	Students will choose two specific required course readings and critically reflect on what they learnt from the key themes, authorial voice and theoretical discussion presented in the readings. They will share their positionality and worldview in relation to the two readings to clarify how what they learnt will influence their self-growth for professional social work practice. In that light, students will draw on personal and professional values and ethical social work practice principles with reference to AASW guidelines, to make specific links to IAHA (2019) cultural responsiveness in practice framework. They will relate to the learnings from the two readings and reflect on any shifts and/or changes in their beliefs, attitudes and values for working with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples with cultural responsiveness in social work practice.
CRITERIA:	No.		Learning Outcome assessed
	1	Demonstrate ability to identify and articulate own positionality and worldview while relating and responding to authors' voice presented in the two selected required course readings.	1 2 3
	2	Demonstrate ability to critically reflect on own individual learnings from the two readings responding to theories and application for cultural responsiveness in social work practice linking to AASW guidelines.	1 2 4
	3	Demonstrate ability to reflect on personal and professional values and ethical principles for professional social work practice applying and exemplifying key capabilities of IAHA cultural responsiveness framework linking to AASW guidelines.	2 3 4
	4	Demonstrate ability to write a well organised, logically structured, cohesive reflective journal with appropriate language and cultural protocol, use of course readings, APA 7 referencing style and plagiarism checks.	2 3 4 5
GENERIC SKILLS:	Communication, Collaboration, Problem solving, Organisation, Applying technologies, Information literacy

All - Assessment Task 3: Oral Group Presentation, Review another Presentation

GOAL:	To engage as a group and examine key issues from historical and contemporary contexts to critically assess and analyse their impact on Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander peoples in contemporary times. This assessment task requires students to demonstrate critical analyses applied in social work practice with reference to AASW guidelines, verbal presentation and written communication skills, and collaboration for effective teamwork in accordance with the inherent academic requirements of Social Work degree program.
PRODUCT:	Oral and Written Piece
FORMAT:	There are two parts to this assessment task: (1) in-class group presentation; (2) written review of another group's presentation. Students will form small groups in Week 1, sign into their groups on Canvas and work as a team for presenting their topic, and also for writing review of another group presentation as a team. Each group will choose a course topic from four given topics. These topics cover a range of historical contexts and contemporary issues reflecting the weekly course content until and including Week 8. All group presentations will take place in class during Week 8. All students are required to be present. Each presentation is for 20 minutes. The same week, working as a team, each group will submit on Canvas a 250-word written review of another group's presentation. Refer to assessment information, resources and marking rubric on Canvas for further details.
CRITERIA:	No.		Learning Outcome assessed
	1	Demonstrate ability to critically examine and analyse historical contexts for analysing contemporary social and political issues and impact on Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander peoples linking to AASW guidelines	1 2
	2	Demonstrate critical understanding of what it means for social work professionals in contemporary times for working with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples to develop cultural responsiveness in practice with reference to AASW guidelines	2 3 4
	3	Demonstrate ability to orally present an academic assessment task with relevant research, use of course readings, logically structured content with appropriate language and cultural protocol, teamwork and communication skills as per AASW guidelines	1 2 3 5
	4	Demonstrate ability to review another group's presentation as a team for constructive feedback on topic depth, analysis and reflections, and communication	1 2 3 4 5
GENERIC SKILLS:	Communication, Collaboration, Problem solving, Organisation, Applying technologies, Information literacy

All - Assessment Task 4: Case Study Analysis and Application of Cultural Responsiveness

GOAL:	The goal of this assessment is to apply your critical analysis skills to a case study for demonstrating your understanding of issues affecting Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and the application of cultural responsiveness framework in professional social work practice.
PRODUCT:	Case Study
FORMAT:	For this critical analysis, you are required to work on a given case study from professional social work practice context. You will identify issues presented in the case study and analyse the role of systems, structures, policies and procedures impacting on the issues and the characters of the case study. You will demonstrate your critical analyses corresponding with any other relevant multidisciplinary professional contexts for relating and responding to the intersecting issues to critique current ways of engaging and working with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples. You will also develop specific strategies to engage with and ensure the provision of culturally safe, sensitive, inclusive and responsive practices for engaging with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples with reference to AASW guidelines. You will identify, relate to and synthesise relevant theories covered throughout the Course. You will integrate personal and professional values and ethical principles with reference to AASW guidelines along with key capabilities of IAHA cultural responsiveness practice framework (2019). You are required to apply all key capabilities to the case study and provide examples for cultural responsiveness in social work practice.
CRITERIA:	No.		Learning Outcome assessed
	1	Critically analyse the case study from social work practice context to demonstrate understanding of key issues linked to systems, structures, policies and procedures impacting on the characters of the case study	1 2
	2	Apply relevant theories to critically discuss key issues of the case study including systemic inequalities, discourses, disconnections between policies and practices from multidisciplinary and social work contexts with reference to AASW guidelines	1 2 3 4
	3	Integrate personal and professional values and ethical principles of social work practice drawing upon AASW guidelines for engaging and working with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples	2 3
	4	Demonstrate and apply clear understanding of the key capabilities of IAHA cultural responsiveness practice framework and give examples for applying them in social work professional practice with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples	1 2 3 4
	5	Present well organised, logically structured, cohesive critical analysis work with appropriate language protocol expression, use of course readings and other academic literature, field resources, and APA 7 referencing style with plagiarism checks	1 2 3 4 5
GENERIC SKILLS:	Communication, Collaboration, Problem solving, Organisation, Applying technologies, Information literacy

7. Directed study hours

9. How are risks managed in this course?

Health and safety risks for this course have been assessed as low. It is your responsibility to review course material, search online, discuss with lecturers and peers and understand the health and safety risks associated with your specific course of study and to familiarise yourself with the University's general health and safety principles by reviewing the online induction training for students, and following the instructions of the University staff.

10. What administrative information is relevant to this course?

10.1. Assessment: Academic Integrity

Academic integrity is the ethical standard of university participation. It ensures that students graduate as a result of proving they are competent in their discipline. This is integral in maintaining the value of academic qualifications. Each industry has expectations and standards of the skills and knowledge within that discipline and these are reflected in assessment.

Academic integrity means that you do not engage in any activity that is considered to be academic fraud; including plagiarism, collusion or outsourcing any part of any assessment item to any other person. You are expected to be honest and ethical by completing all work yourself and indicating in your work which ideas and information were developed by you and which were taken from others. You cannot provide your assessment work to others. You are also expected to provide evidence of wide and critical reading, usually by using appropriate academic references.

In order to minimise incidents of academic fraud, this course may require that some of its assessment tasks, when submitted to Canvas, are electronically checked through Turnitin. This software allows for text comparisons to be made between your submitted assessment item and all other work to which Turnitin has access.

10.2. Assessment: Additional Requirements

Eligibility for Supplementary Assessment

Your eligibility for supplementary assessment in a course is dependent of the following conditions applying:

The final mark is in the percentage range 47% to 49.4%

The course is graded using the Standard Grading scale

You have not failed an assessment task in the course due to academic misconduct

10.3. Assessment: Submission penalties

Late submission of assessment tasks may be penalised at the following maximum rate:

- 5% (of the assessment task's identified value) per day for the first two days from the date identified as the due date for the assessment task.

- 10% (of the assessment task's identified value) for the third day - 20% (of the assessment task's identified value) for the fourth day and subsequent days up to and including seven days from the date identified as the due date for the assessment task.

- A result of zero is awarded for an assessment task submitted after seven days from the date identified as the due date for the assessment task. Weekdays and weekends are included in the calculation of days late. To request an extension you must contact your course coordinator to negotiate an outcome.
